Endless legend trade route guide

PACIFIC MARINE
CIRCLE ROUTE

How to make a trade route endless legend. Endless sky trade routes. Endless legend sea trade routes. Endless space trade routes.

You do not need to do anything, when it comes to trading, apart from construction roads and ports. In such a situation, build another between them. If your regions are not traded between SA, make sure you have built roads there. The same goes for continental regions and roads. Sé that the personalized features are inherently unbalanced, but literally passed thousands of hours playing this game, so I wanted to try my hand in the creation of the most dominated personalized feat. This means that if you have a very broad and intact empire, your returns from commercial routes will be massive. Add your 3-4 setseke and can colonize 6-7 regions before your first winter. Coastal cities are excellent for buying mercenary boats, get a great production once you unlock the loading springs and your dust production is astronomical. The setseke is too powerful at this point of the game. There are a number of things you can do with these mercenaries; You can pacify the towns, you can look for ruins and collect pearls, you can eliminate another neighbor (because the mercenary argues are very strong in Eras II and III) or, you can do my favorite thing with them, which is to conquer the seas. Each city in this construction has 3 commercial routes available once they build their right of passage. Present your own legend! The first and most significant of these features for my strategy is the setseke. Solãã à €
